Product executive with 12+ years building and scaling consumer products at high-growth companies (Jet.com, Buzzfeed, The Infatuation). Proven track record of driving triple-digit growth through user-centric product strategy, experimentation, and team building. Deep expertise in ecommerce, marketplaces, media, and subscription businesses serving millions of users.

In 2025 I started my own consultancy (KHS Consulting) help to consumer, media, and e-commerce companies focus, move faster, and ship what matters.

Bond Holdings | Dec '25 - Present

Head of Product and Growth, Contract

- Served as the first cross-portfolio product and growth hire, embedded across 5 consumer brands spanning candy, supplements, men's sexual wellness, jewelry, and oral dissolve supplements (ODS).
- Launched Don.co, a new DTC brand, from zero — helped build the e-commerce site, onboarded vendors, stood up customer service workflows, and integrated a 3PL logistics partner.
- Worked with retail partners to secure in-store placement for a candy brand; developed new product lines and co-led custom supplement formula research for a supplement brand.
- Managed weekly growth syncs with Amazon and Meta agencies; oversaw UGC and performance marketing partner relationships across the portfolio.
- Built an in-house AI-powered static ad production workflow, personally producing ~100 creatives to seed the testing pipeline.
- Produced and A/B tested new landing pages using AI tooling, establishing the conversion testing engine for one portfolio brand.
- Deployed strategies and tactics to help stabilize CAC/CPA, improve AOV, and restore declining revenue for a portfolio brand.

The Infatuation Acquired by JPMorgan Chase | Aug '22 - Oct '25

VP of Product

- Built, led, and empowered a team of 6 Product Managers, each leading their own cross-functional squad that collectively delivered 100+ roadmap items
- Developed and owned the product strategy and vision, effectively communicating product value propositions to stakeholders/executives and securing buy-in for new initiatives
- Oversaw the full redesign of our iOS and Android apps and the GTM strategy; led to a 30% sign up rate increase, 150% increase in monthly downloads, a 15-20% increase in MAU each month, and stable 30d retention despite user growth
- Spearheaded the development and execution of comprehensive product strategies, resulting in triple-digit percentage growth in user accounts and newsletter subscribers while maintaining stable retention numbers
- Championed a user-centric & design-forward culture that elevated product discovery, design, prototyping, experimentation, and data-informed decision making
- Successfully integrated into Chase, built unique product experiences/perks for our highest-value users, and drove incremental dining spend through our Link & Dine program
- Refined and iterated on our product development processes, reducing cycle times by 25%

Pawp | Sept '21 - May '22

Head of Product

- Led a team of 10 engineers (including international support engineers) 2 designers, and managed 1 Product Manager
- Co-led the development of an in-house Pet Pharmacy and an innovative digital prescription feature that opened up acquisition channels, increased monthly retention, and increased customer satisfaction (CSAT, NPS)
- Delivered 15+ roadmap initiatives and launched 2 new business lines within 6 months
- Instituted a culture of prototyping, research, and identifying opportunity spaces as a way to de-risk future bets
- Owned end-to-end product lifecycle of consumer insights, strategy, design, development, launch, measurement, and optimization

Buzzfeed | June '21 - Nov '21

Staff Product Manager, Contract

- Consulted and led a cross-functional initiative to redesign the Buzzfeed.com homepage which receives 60-80 million monthly visits and hadn't been redesigned since 2016
- Worked closely with SVPs, VPs, and functional stakeholders to coordinate requirements, metrics, research methods, and KPIs
- Led a lean team of 3 engineers, 1 designer, and data analyst
- Set up dashboards, established key metrics, and KPIs to monitor performance during the rollout

Director of Product

- Reported to and partnered with the CEO to bring strategic focus to the team, company, and product utilizing OKRs
- Oversaw and supported a 330%+ increase in our subscriber base since joining the company (+100k paying subs)
- Developed features that positively affected 3,6,12-mo retention, margin, AOV, CVR, gifting, referrals, and core product engagement
- Notably delivered a set of features that materially changed our payback period economics, affording us more CAC spend flexibility
- Implemented a deeper culture of experimentation and iteration that led to 20+ feature tests over the course of 12 months
- Spearheaded qualitative research efforts that revealed a sharper picture of our users and their problems
- Led our product development team of 1 PM, 5 developers, and 2 designers

Button | July'18 - Aug'19

Senior Product Manager, Mobile Experience

- Worked within the OKR framework for delivering focus and purpose to the mobile experience team
- Tasked with leading the company effort for increasing conversion for partners through new feature development and optimizations
- Led a team process refresh that resulted in more focus, less thrash, and higher quality output for a team of 6 developers and 1 designer
- Optimized the operating culture, team design, tooling, and processes in order to better execute on the product strategy and roadmap

Jet.com Acquired by Walmart, 2016 | Nov'14 - July'18

Senior Product Manager, Customer Experience

- Led mobile team of 6 iOS and 4 Android engineers and 2 designers
- Created a product strategy focusing in repeat users which led to app share of GMS to grow from 13% to 22%
- Led and launched the full UI/UX redesign of the iOS app
- Helped develop and implement a culture of mobile prototyping, research/testing, experimentation, and iteration
- Led strategic partnerships with Google and Apple to design mobile experiences with nascent technology (iMessage Apps, ARCore/ARKit, Instant Apps)
- Closely collaborated with cross-functional stakeholders, including design, engineering, research, marketing, and data to execute on native-first and innovative experiences
- Developed a mobile experience strategy that drew on ethnographic research, user interviews, experience maps, personas, and quantitative data
- Partnered with Apple's Apple Pay team to have Jet featured in a 2018 Apple Pay commercial

Product Manager, Customer Experience

- Early member of Jet.com and Jet's third customer experience product manager
- Helped navigate the product team in an increasingly cross-functional environment while the company grew from 60 to 1,500 employees
- Led a cross-functional team of product managers, designers, and engineers to create foundational pieces of the Jet.com platform (promo code engine, order history, returns, search, PDP/PLP, Nav, etc.)
- Contributed to iOS and Android apps being awarded Editors' Choice and named in the Best Apps of 2015 by both the App Store and Play Store

After graduating college, I worked in the entertainment industry between 2010 and 2012 spending the majority of those years at Creative Artists Agency before moving into digital media at Fullscreen in 2012, and then eventually, Product.

Education | 2010

University of California, Irvine — Economics, Sociology

Side Projects

- Chrome extension that brings AI-powered transparency to online shopping — analyzes product pages across Amazon, Shopify, and the open web to evaluate marketing claims with verdicts of Supported, Misleading, or Unverified, using ingredient-aware scientific reasoning and a privacy-first BYOK architecture at under a penny per analysis.
- Web app delivering mathematically optimal Fantasy Premier League transfer recommendations — pulls live squad data from the official FPL API and solves a Mixed Integer Linear Program to maximize expected points across a three-gameweek horizon, accounting for budget, squad rules, and transfer hit penalties.
